

B.P.H.E. Society's
Ahmednagar College, Ahmednagar
Research Centre in Geography

Research Centre in Geography is established in August 2006. Besides university of Pune, Department of Geography research centre, this is the second research centre other than university. This is the first research centre in Ahmednagar district. Dr. Maya G. Unde is Co-ordinator of research centre from 2006. Centre provides specialization of all branches of geography for Ph.D research. Presently one in house and four outside colleges' guides are associated with this centre. So far sixteen students have taken admission for Ph.D out of that one student from other state and one student from other country, and nine candidates have awarded their doctorate degree, one student was availing FIP facility during December 2012 to December 2014. 11 students have awarded the degree from this research center and 15 students are doing their research. Centre is well equipped with laboratory facilities with flume experiment space in the department itself. Besides main library research centre has separate library with periodicals and journals. Research centre conduct course work for research methodology in geography. Various research activities have been organized so far.